Emily: I am so glad I am done here. I never liked any one of you. I hope you have a good life.
PEACE OUT.

Scene 2

(Joey gets email from creative arts festival asking him to be the adjudicator while packing Joey's car)

Joey: Hey Emily, I have to tell you something.

Emily: What? What do you want?

Joey: I just got an email from the Labrador Creative Arts Festival asking me to adjudicate the plays.

Emily: Wow, that's great. When are WE going?

Joey: Why do you assume you're going too?

Emily: Because I'm your girlfriend and I said so.

Joey: (hands up in surrender) Okay, whatever you say.

(calls mom) Guess what? I'm coming home to Goose Bay for the Creative Arts Festival.

Mom: (offstage) Oh that's great, honeybuns!

Joey: Don't call me that. I don't like it. (hangs up)

Scene 3

(Joey and Emily are on the road)

Joey: Are you excited to meet my parents?

Emily: Sure, why not.

Joey: So you don't want to meet my parents?

Emily: No, not really.

Scene 5

(in Joey's hospital room with Doctor Grey, Emily walks in)

Joey: Who are you?

Emily: I'm your girlfriend. (to the audience) he doesn't even remember me... (gets emotional and runs off)

Joey: Why can't I remember anything? What's wrong with me? Who are all these people?

(mom and dad comes in)

Mom: There's nothing wrong with you, honeybuns. You were in an accident. You injured your head and lost your memory.

Joey: Will I ever get it back?

Mom: It will take time, but for now you need to find out who you are. You are getting out of the hospital tomorrow, so we can visit old friends and teachers then.

Joey: I'm really tired.

Dr. Grey: Get some rest Joey, I need to talk to your parents.

(Dr. Grey and parents cross to the other side of the stage)

Dr. Grey: Tell him to take these (passes bottle of medicine to them) twice a day. Maybe get him to visit old friends or teachers to help him get his memory back. He has a checkup scheduled for 2 weeks from now, and he shouldn't sleep for more than 6 hours at a time. Feel free to call me if you have any questions or if anything goes wrong. See you in 2 weeks.

Dad: Thank you Doctor.

(Dad turns to Joey who is asleep and snoring in the bed)

Dad: oh Joey at least you haven't forgotten how to snore.

Scene 6

(walks across stage to Mrs. Winchester)

Mrs. Winchester: How's that assignment that you owed me 5 years ago? (pauses) Just kidding. (hugs Joey) How are you?

Jerome (JAYrome): Remember when you were trying to do a slam dunk and you hit your chin on the rim? (points to scar on chin)

Joey: Oh, that's what that scar is from!

Jessie: Remember when you were trying to braid my hair and you spit your gum in it?

Macie: Remember when you tried to cut the gum out of Jessie's hair and you cut mine instead?

Joey: No, but that sounds funny.

Jerome: I remember that! It WAS funny.

Jessie & Macie: (at the same time) Not for us...

(pause for laughter)

Joey: Dr. Grey says my memory could return at any time. I hope it happens soon.

Jessie & Macie: (at the same time) GROUP HUG
(they all hug, except for Jerome)

Jerome: No thanks..

Black out

Scene 8

(at Joey's house, looking through pictures)

Dad: I am so glad we found these old pictures. Hopefully they jog some memories for you Joey. There are lots of photos here of you and our family and friends.

Joey: Thanks Dad, hey! That looks familiar. Isn't that Jessie with gum in her hair? (pause) Is that my chin? That's gross.

Mom: So, honeybuns, you're remembering things. Do you remember Philbert? Your dog?

Joey: Yeah, where is he?

Mom: Oh, honeybuns, he died years ago.

Joey: That's too bad. Mom, Dad, (Pause) Have you met Emily before?

Mom: No, this is the first time, but we have heard of her for a couple of years and talked to her on the phone and skype many times.
